First Aid Team Wins Dominion Honors St. John Ambulance Ass'n.

Suggestion is Made That Public Recognition be Made by Presentation at Public Function

An honor of outstanding distinction was bestowed on Coleman First Aid circles last week when it became officially known that the International Coal Co's First Aid team had won the Coderre Trophy, open to teams of miners throughout the entire Dominion in competitions held by St. John Ambulance Association.

The personnel of the winning team are H. Chamberlain, E. X. Hill, Ernest Hill, and H. Parkinson (capt.). The team practised strenuously for some time previous to the examinations which took place on July 4, when Col. J. T. Clarke, director general of the St. John Ambulance Association, visited Coleman for the purpose of examining Coleman team for Dominion honors. The result of their labors is clearly shown in the honor they have brought to Coleman and the International Coal Co.

Constable Foster, local R. C. M. P. was a member of the Lethbridge sub-division of "K" division R. C. M. P. team who were victorious in winning the Shaugnessy police trophy and the Sherwood trophy, the latter being open to all police teams in the Dominion.

A number of people to whom the suggestion has been made favor a public function to fittingly honor the members of the winning team. They give time and energy in practicing, and their work is entirely voluntary. Their services are at the disposal of whoever may need them, in the mine or on the street, and many a life has been saved by men with First Aid knowledge. A meeting has been called in the town hall by Mayor Patterson on Friday evening at 7 p. m. in support of the presentation, at which it is hoped there will be a representative attendance.

The letter received from Director General Col. J. T. Clarke was as follows: Mr. Harry Parkinson, Capt. St. John Ambulance Team, Coleman.

Will you please accept for yourself and convey to the members of your team, the sincere congratulations of the Director General and the General Executive Committee, on the excellent showing which your team made in winning the Coderre Miners Cup, for the Dominion of Canada in the 1934 competitions.

With best wishes for the future of your team as First Aiders.

Other Viewpoints

The Macleod Gas-tia, commenting on the Social Credit system proposed by Wm. Aberhart, states:

Much of what is advocated under the name of the Douglas System appears to be sound, although we do not see why we should be called upon to support candidates who will support the system before they are ready to propose a plan. However, we and many other Alberta people are interested in some if not all of their proposals.

Coleman Footballers Defeat Hillcrest 3-1

Kimberley Now Heads League—Corbin Holds Second Place in League Standing

A Crow's Nest league football game was played on the local ground Saturday evening when the locals trimmed the visiting Hillcrest club 3-1.

Both teams have been seen to better advantage than that of Saturday night's display. Dercole, Hillcrest centre forward, was particularly wild in his shooting in front of goal, on one occasion he shot the ball over the bar from six yards out.

Hillcrest had the better of the exchanges in the opening minutes but Coleman were the first to score when Brown broke away to take the ball up the field and give a short pass to Jack Anderson who scored rather neatly. This unexpected set-back caused Hillcrest to attack more doggedly and ten minutes later Dercole received a pass from the left wing and hooked the ball past Anderson to score from close in.

In the beginning of the second half Coleman forced the play and it wasn't long before Hillcrest conceded a corner. W. Fraser took the kick and placed it neatly for Edwards to head it through. Play continued evenly with no team showing advantage over the other until late in the game, Edwards scored his way through the Hillcrest defence for Coleman's 3rd goal. Final Result, Coleman 3 Hillcrest 1. Coleman: McDonald, Jackson, J. Anderson, Kapalka, Ford, J. Fraser, W. Fraser, W. Anderson, Edwards, Jack Anderson, Brown. Hillcrest: Beaver, Docherty, Aleck, Lawrence, Pryde, Price, Bambrough, Bain, Dercole, Daniels, Benchina.

Football Notes

When the football season opened the fans turned out in large numbers and gates ranging from $20 to $40 were paid. Now you can practically count the number of fans on both hands and the committee are certainly not collecting "gates". We wonder what the matter can be.

Bellevue football club found the grade too hard and have consequently withdrawn from the league for the remainder of the season.

Improvements at Coleman Cafe

In order to meet the demand of local trade as well as tourists, Coleman Cafe has added several new booths in order to better serve customers. This convenient and modern restaurant next to Coleman hotel invites you to try their service at all times, for meals, lunches or refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Malcolm of Lethbridge were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Rogers over the weekend.

The condition of J. Pratt, injured last week in McGillivray mine, is reported to be improving. His mother, Mrs. C. Pratt, and Miss Hilda Pratt of Edmonton are at present staying at the Grand Union for a few days.

Important to Remember

The substantial reduction secured in light and power rates can only be maintained by the co-operation of consumers. Especially is this necessary in the use of water during the period when pumping is necessary. Water should not be allowed to run on the streets from lawns and gardens, as it causes unnecessary and wasteful expense in pumping, for which the costs are charged against all consumers. The water system has never paid its way since the franchise was granted, and if consumers will co-operate in avoiding waste, the council has a better chance of securing a continuance of the present reduced light and power rate, or, if further reduction of overhead costs is made, corresponding reductions are possible. It is well to remember that the cost of pumping is approximately $10.00 per day.

Another Daring Burglary of Main Street Store

Estimated $500 Worth of Clothing Taken—Burglary Discovered by Girls Passing Store Sunday Morning.

Breaking the glass panel in the entrance door of Chas. Nicholas' store after midnight on Saturday, burglars got away with clothing estimated at about $500 in value. The burglary was discovered by the Misses Betty and Muriel Naylor, who were walking past the store about 8 a.m. Sunday; they informed Joe Spivak, who in turn notified Mr. Nicholas. He telephoned Constable Houghton, who had not received any intimation of the robbery, and immediately he advised the mounted police office at Blairmore. A check-up was made, but so far no arrests have been made.

The goods had been disarranged, as if the burglars were picking out the articles they most needed, and apparently they were in no great rush. The goods were handed out through the opening where the glass panel had been broken, as with a double lock they were unable to open the door. Either a car or truck must have been used, it is surmised, to take the goods away.

Mr. Nicholas expressed the feeling that more protection should be provided against theft. Speaking to The Journal, he said that the amount paid in taxes warranted more protection than was being given, and he felt that the town should be partly responsible for the loss through lack of sufficient police protection.

During part of last winter, the town employed a night watchman, and it is reported that during that time no burglaries were committed. Without a night patrol, numerous burglaries have taken place, which emphasizes the need for night police vigilance.

Articles stolen include ladies shoes, men's clothing, underwear, boys clothing, ties, sweaters and various other articles. The ladies goods appear to have been very little disturbed, but the men's and boys goods were badly mauled over and some were on the floor. The cash register or safe had not been tampered with.

This store was broken into about six years ago, and three men were arrested in Bellevue by the mounted police and sentenced to six and nine months. Most of the stolen goods were recovered at that time.

The Sunday evening service were in addition to Rev. A. E. Larke, who was in charge, R. D. Skinner, of Vancouver; J. W. Gresham and wife, and J. Harmer of Blairmore. Mrs. S. G. Bannan sang solo.

Miss Marie Naylor of Cranbrook hospital, is home for three weeks' vacation.

To Stimulate Objective Thinking

The topsy-turvy condition in which the world finds itself to-day, naturally leads to serious thought on the part of everyone. Why should there be so much penury and want in the midst of a surplus of commodities? What are the real causes of stagnation of the world over. One hears that the capitalist system is doomed, and out of the present chaotic conditions a new order is bound to be established. Many theories are being continually advanced, designed to produce a new Utopia. The history of the world establishes the fact that all reforms necessarily come slowly. There can be no rapid realization of many obviously needed changes in our social system. But the world does not stand still, a forward and not a backward movement is inevitable. The encouragement and not the suppression of constructive thinking and expression of thought would be of material assistance. In the annual address of Principal Fyfe of Queen's University, reference was made to the stimulation of thought by means of discussions in the class rooms. He is reported in part as follows:

"In our academic section we sometimes catch from a busier world the echoes of an accusation that the Universities of Canada are becoming 'nurseries of anarchy and revolution'. So far as such charges have any basis except hysteria, they may serve to encourage us, for they seem to indicate that students are in some measure acquiring the art of looking at both sides of disputed questions, an art in which it is our duty to encourage them. The ideal of suppressing enquiry and free speech, which has for the moment established a tragic dominance in many parts of the world, is nowhere more absurd than in a University, where men and women gather to exercise their faculties of curiosity and logic. Those faculties in them are necessarily immature; their utterances are often crudely dogmatic. But to stifle thought and utterance would be in a University the basest treason. As Penn said, 'Whoever is right, the persecutor must be wrong'."

"If we are to stimulate in our pupils objective thinking, we must be equally free in speech and thought ourselves—but not equally rash. Propaganda is no part of a teacher's proper function. He is not concerned to produce opinion, a temporary state of conviction which can be quickly changed by counter-propaganda. His aim is to stimulate the growth of intelligence, the power of detached judgment. To that end he may exercise in the class-room every art of sophistry, but if he blinks his way into the outer world, where opinions clash unanchored both from fact and reason, it behoves him to remember what astonishing weight that world attaches to a professional pronouncement. The dignity of the University stalks beside him on the platform, sternly demanding judicial sobriety. A University teacher should certainly be clever; he needs to be wise; and of the factors of wisdom not the least are self-restraint and kindness and patience."

To Inquire Into Claims Of Alberta For Further Resources Compensation

Hon. Andrew K. Dymart, judge of the Manitoba court of king's bench; Hon. Thomas M. Tweedie, judge of the supreme court of Alberta, and George C. Macdonald, Montreal, have been constituted a commission to inquire into claims of the province of Alberta for further compensation with respect to the administration and control of its natural resources. Announcement of the appointment was officially published recently. Mr. Justice Dymart is chairman.

With the exception of Mr. Justice Tweedie the commission is the same as that which investigated similar claims on the part of Saskatchewan recently. On the completion of the Alberta report the commission will render to the federal government joint recommendations on behalf of both provinces.

Chinese Form Of Torture

Used Skin Of Rhinoceros To Crush Political Prisoners

The ancient Chinese had some strange uses for the rhinoceros, according to a report by an American archaeologist. One form of torture was to wrap a political prisoner in the hide of a freshly killed rhinoceros. As the hide dried it contracted and slowly crushed the victim. Another use the ancient Chinese had for rhinoceros skins was for covering funeral cars. Also the armour of the bronze-age warriors was made of it.

Gold Pouring Into London

Great Increase In Foreign Deposits Of Precious Metal

The golden tide, unexampled in the history of the world's monetary movements, continues to pour into London.

It began a year ago with a gold influx at the rate of $25,000,000 weekly, then it increased early this year to $62,000,000 weekly, and now it averages 45 millions weekly and shows no indication of declining. As soon as gold arrives in England from South Africa, Canada and other producing countries, it is bought by French, German, Dutch and American buyers, nervous about the financial state of affairs in their own countries, and stored away uselessly in the vaults of London banks, where they know it cannot be touched. Already in the square mile that constitutes the city of London more precious metal has accumulated than ever King Solomon's legendary mines contained. The latest figures, covering a period of nine months, show gold importations valued at $1,000,200,000. Exports reached less than $500,000,000. Altogether, at the moment one billion and a quarter of foreign gold is stored in the city banks—a figure which exceeds any previous records in peace time.

Bankers do not want this gold; they cannot use it either to provide credits for industry or work for Britain's unemployed. Moreover, any fresh financial upheaval in Europe might cause its flight from London, with disastrous effects on sterling's international stability. Its uselessness is further emphasized by the fact that, although London's vaults are bursting with it, the official government figures reveal that the British people's purchasing power in the way of wages and salaries has been decreased through an economy campaign by $310,000,000 since the gold crisis of 1931.

Solo Climber Lost Life

Former British Army Captain Attempted Ascent Of Mount Everest

A solo climber of Mount Everest would be the limit in human daring. It is the sort of unbridled audacity which the Greeks thought allied to sacrifice and which the gods invariably punished. The penalty has been meted out to Maurice Wilson, the former British army captain who set out to walk up a mountain which organized expeditions have failed to conquer. It was his theory that these Everest attempts had failed because of overelaboration, in which he may have been right.

Mr. Wilson did not count on making use of ropes and tracks left by the Rutledge expedition last year, or that in the strictest sense his was something more than a one-man expedition. But when all is said and done, he obviously belonged to the new school of mountaineering which has sprung up since the war and which has transformed a sport into a gamble with death. The new climbers have performed feats which the older Alpinists would not dream of attempting, but they have done it at an enormous cost of life.—New York Times.

To Salvage Treasure

Nineteen Gallions Sunk In 1702 To Be Searched For Gold

The 19 galleons of the Franco-Spanish fleet sunk in the Bay of Vigo in September, 1702, by the combined British and Dutch fleets under Sir George Rooke and the Duke of Ormonde, will be searched for gold this summer, the Madrid newspaper El Debate reported.

Several previous attempts to salvage the treasure brought by the fleet from the West Indies were fruitless.

Glass Is Latest Vogue

Glass and steel are the vogue for modern homes in England this season. Glass wall-nets and chromium-tubed easy chairs are among the most popular pieces. Beds are coming into style. Steel drawing rooms and glass bedrooms are considered the latest in human habitation.

The principal European countries, notably France, Italy, and Germany, have stringently controlled the imports of dairy products during the past few years by tariffs, quotas, and other means. This has resulted in a steady increase in the quantities of butter and cheese exported to the United Kingdom.

Canadian production of timothy seed is less than one half of domestic requirements, as indicated by importation statistics, while substantial export surpluses of alfalfa, sweet clover, and Canada blue grass are usually produced yearly.

Building More Ships

Britain Still Maintaining Her Rule Of The Sea

What may be taken as a sign of a world trend toward prosperity is the fact that on June 30 last, compared with the same date last year, there was a 70 per cent. increase in the tonnage of the merchant ships under construction in the yards of all nations, except Russia, about which Lloyd's had no official information. Since June, 1933, there has been increased activity in most shipyards and compared with the report on March 31, it is still on the upgrade though the argument of new tonnage was only 1 per cent.

Great Britain and Ireland, which are taken together, still lead the way. The only notable gain over the last quarter was that shown in their reports. They are building five of the ships of 20,000 tons or more, the sixth being under construction in France. Two of the large British ships were started last quarter.

The British yards are now building 48.3 per cent. of all merchant tonnage, namely, 587,142 tons out of the 1,216,340 under construction. The British increase was 105,702 tons over last quarter. To appreciate Britain's position we have only to compare it with Japan's, which is next in line. Japan's total tonnage on June 30 was 137,280, less than a fourth of Britain's total, and Japan's increase was 14,000 tons, less than a seventh Britain's increase.

France comes next in line, then Germany, Denmark, Holland, Sweden, Italy, the United States and Spain, in the order named. The only two nations which showed less shipbuilding activity were Italy and Spain. The United States moved up from tenth to ninth place, though its increase was only 247 tons. It is evident that British merchant shipping is maintaining its rule of the sea.

A Million In Time

World War Lasted About Two Million Minutes

A way of realizing the meaning of a million is to think of what time there are less than a million days in the whole Christian Era; in fact, if we count back a million days from 1933, we come to a date well before the founding of Rome, while a million hours would take us back to the time of Trafalgar. The Great War lasted about two million minutes, and, taking the total casualties as ten millions, this gives an average of five casualties per minute throughout the period of hostilities.

The movement of sheep and lambs in Canada from farms to livestock yards and packers showed a substantial increase during 1933 and was well above the five-year average 1929-1933.

Logging camps and other woods operations form an important outlet for Canadian canned and dried fruits.

In 1933 a total of 398,300 acres were sown to buckwheat in Canada and production amounted to 8,483,000 bushels.

King George's Silver Jubilee

Celebration Will Be Held In May Of Next Year

The Irish Free State has declined to send a representative to participate in next year's celebration of the silver jubilee of King George's accession, it was revealed in the House of Commons.

The revelation was made by Acting-Premier Stanley Baldwin who announced the celebration would be held May 6 to 18 and the 25th anniversary of accession would be observed as a public holiday throughout the nation.

Mr. Baldwin said prime ministers of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had welcomed with warmth the suggestion they take part in the ceremonies at London, although it was impossible to tell at the moment if they would be able to present owing to possibility of political developments keeping them at home.

The acting-premier said also the government hoped to hold informal conversations with the premiers regarding important empire questions, taking advantage of their presence in London.

The Irish refusal of the invitation was decided by President Eamon de Valera and his executive on the grounds attendance was not possible under present conditions, a statement presumed to mean the Free State did not wish to take part in view of differences between it and the United Kingdom over land annuities and the consequent economic "war".

Feature of the celebration will be a thanksgiving service which Her Majesty will attend at St. Paul's cathedral and similar services in other parts of the country.

Secret Method Revealed

How Scotland Yard Determines Age Of Finger Prints

Scotland Yard's secret method of telling the age of finger prints was revealed in Sessions Court in London during the trial recently of John C. O'Connor, charged with breaking into the Lady Margaret Day Nursery. Evidence against him was a thumb-print found on a clock, but O'Connor said he had only handled the implemple in 1932. Detective-Sergeant Jack Living, of New Scotland Yard, said he had no doubt the fingerprint was that of O'Connor. He added: "The powder we apply to latent impressions to bring them out will stick to the ridges of a new print, but an old one is dry and the powder will not adhere to it. A fresh print can easily be removed by a duster, but a stale one can only be removed by a damp cloth."

Education In Russia

Stalin Orders Secondary Schools To Raise Standards Again

Stalin's latest decree that the secondary schools of the Soviet Union must, in some degree at least, return to the standards and methods of the rest of Europe adds another paragraph to a new and more hopeful chapter in an old and rather sorry story. The story is that of the failure of an experiment, which, like so many other things in modern Russia, looked very handsome on paper, but which has proved to be quite beyond realization in actual practice.—Glasgow Herald.

Always Good Neighbors

Canada And United States Like To Exchange Courtesy

That was a friendly and fine gesture when the Americans brought back the mace which they took away from the old Upper Canada parliament back in 1812. To many, it may seem a little thing, yet it is just the sort of little thing that makes for friendliness and good feeling between two countries. It is the sort of thing, indeed, which, occurring every now and then, has made Canada and the United States almost model neighbors.—Ottawa Journal.

Ottawa Withdraws Booklet Written By Hon. H. H. Stevens

Ottawa.—In a dramatic move over the week-end, the government withdrew from publication a booklet written by Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, charging exploitation of Canadian consumers and producers by financial groups. It was withdrawn by Premier R. B. Bennett after warnings of legal action from companies named in the pamphlet.

The 12-page booklet was based on evidence produced before the mass buying committee of the House of Commons, over which the trade minister presided. He said he would not rest until conditions were remedied, levelling a many-sided indictment against financial groups for wage-cutting, stock watering and general unethical business practices. This might involve, he said, a change in the traditional policies of the Conservative party.

In an interview in Winnipeg, Mr. Stevens said the booklet contained the text of a private address he delivered to a parliamentary study club during the session. At the request of some of the members for further opportunity to study his speech, it was printed in booklet form and was intended for their information only and not for publication.

Some of the copies of the booklet were sent from the department to certain newspapers. The minister's views as to certain practices were so emphatic that the firms against which strictures were leveled took strong exception to publication. Counsel for some of them wired the government as Mr. Stevens had already left for Winnipeg. The message was sent to Premier R. B. Bennett.

The view taken by the counsel was that some of Mr. Stevens' deductions were not borne out by the evidence submitted to the committee and intimated that publication might lead to court action. It was a result of these protests that the government investigated why these pamphlets had been sent out at all. The various newspapers and individuals receiving copies were communicated with by the department and asked to return them. It was stated by officials that the booklet had been an error that they had gone out.

British House Adjourns

Date Of Next Session Set For October 10

London.—Both houses of parliament have adjourned until Oct. 10, unless the lord chancellor and the speaker decide the public interest requires an earlier re-assembly. During the part of the session just over parliament passed almost 50 public bills. Those left for the autumn include the betting and lotteries bill and a measure designed to curb and punish persons inciting disaffection among His Majesty's forces. The chief issue before the next session will be that of a new constitution for India.

Increasing Wheat Bounties

Canberra.—The Australian government has decided to increase the bounty it has paid for three years to wheat growers. Under the new plan wheat raisers will receive three shillings a bushel, with a proportionate decrease if present prices become higher.

Patullo Asks For Royal Commission To Study Subsidies

Ottawa.—Premier T. D. Patullo of British Columbia appealed to the Dominion government to appoint a royal commission to study the adequacy of federal subsidies to the far western province and to absorb the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Canadian National system.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, surrounded by his cabinet, heard the three-hour appeal but gave no immediate reply. He intimated he would study the representations in detail before coming to a decision. The Pacific coast premier planned returning west, adhering to his decision not to sign the direct relief agreement with the Dominion until a re-

Secure Low Interest Rate

Two Per Cent. Has Been Obtained For Ottawa Loan

Ottawa.—Securing what is believed to be the lowest interest rate in the history of Dominion financing, a loan of $500,000 has been negotiated with the Chase National Bank of New York and a group associated with it, bearing interest at two per cent. and maturing in one year. Announcement of the loan was made by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance.

With $10,000,000 from the cash balances held by the government the loan will refund a $600,000 treasury note issue bearing interest at four per cent. and maturing on Oct. 1, payable in New York City. These notes will be called on Sept. 1, and the saving in interest rates over the year will amount to $1,000,000. The issue being redeemed was sold for a 15-month period.

The new issue will not involve any public offer and may be called on the first business day of June, September, Hon. G. M. Weir, British Columbia minister of education, announced here.

The series will include a set of six readers and a supporting set of teachers' manuals and work books.

The series is called "High Roads To Reading" and contains many notable features not present in the works it will replace. They have already been tried at the B.C. summer school for teachers and heartily endorsed.

Opening Of Bay Route

Prospects For A Record Shipping Season Seem Good

Churchill, Man.—Warm winds whistled down Hudson strait as harbor crews at this northern seaport prepared to open the navigation season of 1934 on Aug. 10. With 10 steamers definitely chartered and more bookings in the offing, port officials were enthused over prospects for a record shipping season. A complete crew always is on hand to swing machinery into action at the huge elevator filled with 2,500,000 bushels of wheat.

First of the fleet of vessels to trade here this season, the S.S. Dalworth, will bring a general cargo from Newcastle and Antwerp. In addition to taking her bill of grain for the outward journey, she will load 1,250 tons of flour, oatmeal and other commodities.

Cattle from the prairies and lumber will find their way to markets of the world through the northern shipping lanes this season.

Spies Are Sentenced

Seventeen Convictions On Charges Of Espionage In France

Paris.—The number of convictions in the 1934 spy round-up in France has reached 17 with the sentencing of a naturalized German, who formerly belonged to the Foreign Legion, and a 19-year-old girl.

Frederick Pasquay was convicted of spying for Germany and sentenced to 18 months in prison at Metz, and Jeanne Dieudonne to ten years in Nancy on a charge of attempting to pry secrets from officers stationed at an aviation field.

Thirty-three arrests have been made since January, and there are more than 100 persons, arrested prior to 1934, awaiting trial on espionage charges.

Wants Small Navies

Absolute Minimum Is Idea Of New Japanese Premier

Tokyo.—Katsuo Okada, new premier of Japan, whose viewpoint on naval questions was awaited eagerly by the world, said he believes navies should be reduced to the smallest proportions possible.

But he added that Japan is dissatisfied with the arbitrary 5-5-3 ratio fixed by the Washington treaty of 1922 as Japan's proportion of capital ships in relation to Great Britain and the United States. Whether the Washington treaty is to be abolished has not yet been decided, he said.

"I cannot favor the present ratio principle in naval limitation, which hurts the self respect of certain nations," said the premier who was called to the head of the government from a long career as a naval officer. His observations were made at his first meeting with foreign newspaper correspondents.

High Roads To Reading

Uniform Readers To Be Used In Schools Of Western Provinces

Victoria.—New uniform readers and teachers' manuals will be used in grade schools and correspondence courses of the four Western Canadian provinces next term, starting in September, Hon. G. M. Weir, British Columbia minister of education, announced here.

The series will include a set of six readers and a supporting set of teachers' manuals and work books. The series is called "High Roads To Reading" and contains many notable features not present in the works it will replace. They have already been tried at the B.C. summer school for teachers and heartily endorsed.

Scheme Well Advanced

Imperial Airways Have Received Tenders For Flying Boats

London.—Tenders for a fleet of 20 multi-engine flying boats to be used in the projected England-Canada air service have been submitted to Imperial Airways, according to the air correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who says the scheme is well advanced.

The flying boats would accommodate from 30 to 50 persons. In the winter, the correspondent says, the route will be by Bermuda and in the summer by Iceland and Greenland.

Aviation Program Reduction

United States Naval Aviation Construction To Be Reduced

Washington.—The United States naval high command was disclosed authoritatively to have determined on a sharp reduction in naval aviation construction.

Present plans, which may be altered, call for 274 ferret planes than the 2,184 which the navy had decided would be necessary under the Vinson bill authorizing a treaty strength navy by 1942. A thousand planes now comprise the naval air force and plans had evolved to build the other 1,184 in annual instalments.

Prince Taking Holiday

Advertising Canada

Premier Bennett Moves Switch To Light Electric Sign In London

Ottawa.—Moving a switch in Ottawa, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett illuminated a giant electric sign placed on the grand building opposite Canada House in London, advertising the excellence of Canadian products. Mr. Bennett's words of dedication were at the same time, written against the London skyline in electric letters.

The sign, a part of the advertising program conducted through the office of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner, bears a green maple leaf superimposed against a red triangle, the new "Canadian quality" mark recently registered in the United Kingdom. Beneath the mark appears the words—"Canada—The Empire's Larder," and in the next line, "Ask Your Grocer."

To End Abuses

Relief Is Promised For Industrial Workers In Ontario

Toronto.—Attorney-General Arthur Ruckelshaus promised Ontario's hungry marchers there would be legislation by the government to definitely end gross industrial abuses. Legislation would be enacted at the next legislative session, he said, to bring industrial workers and employers together for the purpose of evolving a code to govern industry.

"It will be an act with more teeth in it than is contained in existing legislation," he said. "We are going to bring both sides together to work out a code. We are going to put the shy employer out of business altogether in Ontario. There are other gross abuses which we will abolish."

Essay Winner

Saskatoon Student Is Winner Of Dominion-Wide Contest

Victoria.—William Preseskey, 906 York avenue, Saskatoon, a student of Nutana collegiate institute, has been officially declared winner of the Dominion-wide essay contest conducted in connection with the convention of the National Association of Kinmen Clubs of Canada.

Preseskey wrote a treatise on the "Autonomy of Canada." His essay was selected as the best of 15 winners from a like number of cities in the Dominion by V. L. Denton, principal of the British Columbia Normal school here.

THE AREA WHICH IS AGAIN THE DANGER ZONE

Above is a map showing the position of Austria in relation to the other nations in Europe. Austria's border on the Southwest where it joins Italy is literally covered with 45,000 Italian troops, sent by Mussolini to be ready to defend Austria's independence if necessary. Across the small area which once was the great Hapsburg empire there is flashing an undercurrent of revolution which may break out at any moment. Although the Nazis failed in their efforts to take over control, even though they went to the extent of murdering Chancellor Dollfus, the situation is still fraught with factional unrest.

World Police Force Would Be Best Means To Maintain Peace

London.—Arthur Henderson, chairman of the League of Nations disarmament conference, called for substitution of an international police force for national armies as the surest contribution to world peace in a message on the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the outbreak of the Great War.

In a message in response to a request by the London correspondent of the Moscow newspaper Pravda, Henderson said: "No collective provision will contribute more to ensure security, banish war and destroy the menace of aggression than the total abolition of armed forces and the substitution of an international police force."

The message said in part: "This, the 20th anniversary of the fearful Aug. 4, on which war was let loose upon the world, will stir up in all our minds vivid memories of one of the most tragic calamities in the history of mankind."

"For every worker, in every land, it shall be a day of solemn and sincere rededication to the people's cause of permanent peace."

"The most compelling sanction for the preservation of peace will be found in the repudiation of war by the peoples of all nations."

"When the workers of every country developed an unalterable determination that in no circumstances whatsoever could they attack or support an attack upon any other nation, war will have been finally abolished."

"There will then be no need to define the difference between a war of aggression and a war of defence; no need to weigh up whether and to what extent national armaments may safely be reduced; no need to exact from the fruits of productive effort a colossal tribute for expenditures on weapons of destruction and no need to live in an atmosphere of suspicion and distrust or in a state of fear or hostility."

"The League of Nations covenant and the Paris pact, renouncing war, as an instrument of nations' policy, ensure a just settlement of all international disputes by peaceful means, and the regional pacts of non-aggression and mutual assistance are designed to save the nations collectively and individually from war."

"But it must not be forgotten that the real security for which all nations yearn, and promotion of which is the declared aim of these covenants, treaties, and pacts, cannot be realized as a common possession of mankind so long as the world continues a vast armed camp, with each nation ready to use whatever its armaments shall be and to what uses they shall be put."

Consolidate Tax Arrears

City of Regina's Plan Is Approved By Government

Regina.—Regina's plan for consolidation of tax arrears was approved by Hon. R. J. M. Parker, minister of municipal affairs. Arrangements were made for putting it into effect almost immediately, arrearage being called into special meeting to give it passage.

Regina's scheme provides for a reduction in tax penalties from 10 per cent. to 3 per cent. It also provides that the amount consolidated shall be due and payable in six equal annual instalments, with interest at the rate of six per cent.

Communists In Germany

Breslau, Germany.—Forty-six Communists, accused of subversive activities, were convicted by a special court here and sentenced to prison terms aggregating 71 years.

Plane Will Be Repaired

Grierson Hopes To Resume His Flight To Canada

Reykjavik, Iceland.—John Grierson, British flyer whose seaplane crashed here during an attempted flight from Rochester, England, to Ottawa, left here for Leith, Scotland, aboard an Icelandic steamer with the damaged parts of his machine. The parts will be repaired in England and Grierson said he hoped to return within two weeks and resume his flight to Canada.

French Millers Defy Law

Paris.—The millers of France have openly defied the government's efforts to regulate the price of wheat. In a letter to Premier Gaston Doumergue, the National Association of Millers said it will refuse to abide by the law which fixes the price of harvested wheat at $2.35 a bushel and the coming crop at $1.95.

Adolf Hitler Has Become The Absolute Dictator Of Germany

Berlin.—Adolf Hitler, in a series of lightning-like moves, has made himself absolute dictator of Germany.

He concentrated in his own hands the functions of president and of chancellor as soon as the aged president and patriot, Paul von Hindenburg, died at Neudeck.

Then he called for and received an oath of personal allegiance from officers and men of the entire army and navy.

After these moves, amounting to a virtual coup d'état, the former lesser corporal, who succeeded a field marshal, called for a plebiscite on Aug. 19.

Although desiring the functions of the presidency, Hitler declined to accept the title.

In a letter to Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, Hitler outlined his plans to assume the office without the title, saying he desired henceforth to be known as before as "Fuehrer and Reichschancellor."

He directed that a "free secret election" be held at which the concentration of power in his hands and such other matters as may be necessary be held.

"The necessity for regulating the question of the chief of state, caused by the national misfortune that has overtaken our people," Hitler wrote, "leads me to issue the following order:

"First, the greatness of the deceased has given to the title of Reichschancellor unique and non-repeating significance."

fuehrer and Reichschancellor only. This stipulation is to be observed in the future also.

"Second, I desire that the vesting in my person, and thereby in the Reich's chancellery's office as such, of the functions of the former Reich president, be decided upon by the cabinet and constitutionally valid, shall receive the expressed sanction of the German people."

"Stepped in the conviction that all authority of the state must proceed from the people and by them be ratified in free, secret election, I request you immediately to lay the decision of the cabinet, with possible necessary additions, before the German people for a free plebiscite."

Rapidity of the action which concentrated authority over 65,000,000 Germans in the hands of one man recalled the speed with which the Nazis first came to power on the morning of Jan. 30, 1933.

Once again the Germans showed they are a disciplined people, trained to obedience. The change from a country governed at least theoretically by constitution to absolute dictatorship seemed to cause no ripple.

Dire whisperings that the Reichswehr, which worshipped the aged Paul von Hindenburg as a hero, might refuse obedience proved unfounded—as unfounded as had been reports of a general strike when Hitler became chancellor.

By nightfall, the propaganda ministry announced the entire army and navy had taken the oath. It was administered wherever detachments happened to be or wherever ships lay at anchor or moved through the seas.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

LACK OF Police protection for stores during the night raises justified protest. $150 per month is paid for a day policeman, but no appropriation is made for a night policeman to protect stores from burglaries. A brazen-faced burglar, whereby the front door of a store on the main street was forcibly opened, and approximately $500 worth of goods removed, was not discovered by police, but by a young girl passing the store about 8 a.m. A night patrol would have possibly prevented such an entry, or would at least have discovered a burglary had been committed before the trail grew cold. Storekeepers demand better protection. Burglaries become more brazen the more frequently they are committed with such ease and lack of detection.

The council should either re-arrange the duties of the present policeman in co-operation with the mounted police or engage a night policeman. Not only as a protection against burglary but also as a protection against fire there should be a frequent night patrol of the business section. The money paid out for police duty could be spent to greater advantage in more efficient prevention work, which is always far better than cure.

THE PROTECTION given by the mounted police in Coleman and its environs amounts to six hours daily, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Whatever other casual duty is performed is apparently at the discretion of the mounted police at Blairmore. Despite Coleman's and the mining companies' requests for mounted police to guard against theft, and promises of consideration, they have been shelved or a makeshift service given which affords no protection when most needed. Concerted action should be taken by business men and mining companies, backed up by vigorous action to the proper authorities, and continued till their requests are complied with.

MARIE DRESSLER, well remembered as "Tugboat Annie," leaves affectionate memories among millions of picture fans. The reason of her popularity was mainly due, not so much to her acting, though it was of high order, but to utter absence of artificiality. On the screen she impersonated roles which might well have taken place in everyday life. Particularly was this trait seen in "Tugboat Annie," when, as the wife of a drunken husband, she bosses the tug and keeps a worthless husband from becoming an absolute derelict on the waterfront. She was loved for her natural ability, which needed not artificial devices to place her among the best of the screen artists. Above all, she was just herself. No side or "airs" were required to enhance her appeal to audiences.

"CHARACTER is property. It is the noblest of possessions. It is an estate in the general goodwill and respect of men; and they who invest in it—though they may not become rich in this world's goods—will find their reward in esteem and reputation fairly and honorably won."

THE ABOVE quotation from a book entitled "Character," first published in 1871, of which the Rev. Samuel Smiles, L.L.D., was the author, is well worth reading. Here is another interesting incident recorded, touching on the character of the English statesman, Fox.

"He was a man who could always be most easily touched on the side of his honour. Thus the story is told of a tradesman calling upon him one day for the payment of a promissory note which he presented. Fox was engaged at the time in counting out gold. The tradesman asked to be paid from the money before him. "No," said Fox, "I owe this money to Sheridan; it is a debt of honour: if any accident happened to me, he would have nothing to show." "Then," said the tradesman, "I change MY debt into one of honour;" and he tore up the note. Fox was conquered by the act: he thanked the man for his confidence, and paid him, saying, "Then Sheridan must wait; yours is the debt of older standing."

THESE incidents of character are well to recall in days of high-powered salesmanship, and the inclination to allow debts of honor for food and clothing to wait while other things less necessary for living are paid for. The tradesman has no promissory note from those who purchase on credit, and sometimes suffers loss by those who ignore a debt of honor or become out-and-out deadbeats.

VON HINDENBURG less than twenty years ago was a name conjuring up feelings of hate among the Allies. On his death expressions of sympathy pour forth from all countries who fought against him. Not only among his countrymen did he gain respect for his integrity and force of character, but also among his former enemies, who recognize that he loyally served his country in war and in the troublous peace times which followed. Can Hitler steady the German people as Von Hindenburg has done? Time alone will tell. "To the world he will stand as a constant reminder that greatness in battle may be far surpassed by greatness in peace."

A couple of weeks ago in this column we mentioned the sentence that Old Country typists used in attaining speed in their work, that they used "It's not the 'eavy 'auling that 'urts the 'orse's 'ooofs." A friend of ours reminds us of another which is perhaps the most classic of all dropped "h" sentences. It was spoken by Jorrocks, one of Surtee's famous hunting novel characters, when he said: "Hile not the 'unting that 'urts the 'orses 'ooofs, hile the 'ammer, 'ammer, 'ammer on the 'ard 'igh road.—Cranbrook Courier

G. E. Cruickshank Reviews Session of Legislature

He also suggested that the present government house could be used as a tubercular sanitarium. He however should have consulted some of the medical authorities before making this statement for the debate brought to light the fact that the climatic conditions in that district were suicidal to tubercular patients. The motion was carried with two of the ministers, Mr. Hoadley and Mr. Baker voting for it and the other ministers, four liberals, five conservatives and four independent voters against the motion.

Another important item was the appearance before the Agricultural committee of a large number of unfortunate men who had in the course of their employment, been injured and who through their spokesman, Mr. Stokaluk they appealed against what they claimed to be very unjust treatment by the Compensation Board. They also claimed that the present board was incompetent and demanded their dismissal. The Premier was present and promised that consideration would be given to their complaints, but informed them that the government would not make any changes in the compensation act during the present session. I am not aware that anything has been done as yet in the way of an investigation into these complaints.

A great amount of thought was given by the agricultural committee to the present economic conditions of the country and in order to attempt to find a way out of the present difficult position, several persons who had made a study of economics were called in but none of them could show a definite way out.

Even Major Douglas was brought before the committee at a cost of $1250.00 but after giving evidence for most of a day, the majority of us came to the conclusion that the solution of the problem was still in the distant future.

Another item of importance was the presentation by a committee of unemployed of complaints against the way in which the unemployment relief was handled and demanding dismissal of the director of relief. They gave instances of what they claimed to be very harsh and inhuman treatment of some of the unfortunate who found it necessary to apply for relief.

While I believe there was reason for complaint in certain cases yet certain statements in connection with other cases were checked and found to be entirely wrong. Their appearance before the committee resulted in straightening out numerous matters and resulted in better understanding between them as to what they could expect in the way of relief in future.

I have tried in the above to explain some of the most important items of legislation and will be pleased at any time to discuss any item of legislation with interested parties at any time.

Yours faithfully
G. Cruickshank

Yukon Newspaper Publisher

An interesting caller on The Journal last Thursday was J. D. Skinner, who until recently published a weekly newspaper at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, and who now lives in Vancouver. Though only having a population of less than 400, he secured a fair amount of national advertising, as well as local, and his subscription rate was $5.00 per annum, and advertising contract rate 50c per inch. Whitehorse is connected with Dawson City, seat of the Yukon territorial government, by steamboat in the summer, and stage in the winter, it being four hundred miles distant. Dawson City has a tri-weekly newspaper, and population is 975.

Mr. Skinner remarked he had been almost broke many times, but had usually managed to find a way over all obstacles.

The Corner

Harvey Murphy conducted an anti war meeting on the vacant lot in the rear of the 41. Meat Market on Wednesday evening. Harvey seems to know all about wars and the diplomacy which brings them on. He has an idea that they are created for the general amusement of the capitalist class. The real reason for the public meeting was to create a demand for the release of Tim Buck and others agitators who are serving time in Kingston penitentiary.—Ferne Free Press.

Magistrate J. W. Gresham has resumed his magisterial duties, after a prolonged period of illness. His old friends are pleased to see him restored to health, and trust he will continue to administer justice with a kindly but firm hand to the satisfaction and dissatisfaction of the innocent and the guilty.

RED RASPBERRY JAM

4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
6½ cups (2½ lbs.) sugar
1½ bottle fruit pectin
To prepare fruit, crush or grind about two quarts fully ripe berries. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil ten minutes. Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cook slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 19 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

CHICKEN MERANGO

1 young chicken
¾ cup butter
1 finely chopped onion
1 small carrot, cut in cubes
1 turnip, cut in cubes
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper.
Cut up a young chicken in quarters. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown in salt pork fat. Put in a baking dish with the other ingredients and cook slowly in the oven until the chicken is tender. Serve in the dish in which it was cooked.

Noted Horticulturist Dead

Ernest Hutcherson Was Charter Member Of B.C. Fruit Growers
Ernest Hutcherson, 81, who was the first horticulturist at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont., and who gave instruction in 1879 to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Dominion minister of agriculture, is dead at Ladner, B.C., where he had resided 52 years.

Mr. Hutcherson resigned from the Guelph college in 1880. With the late Thomas McNeely, he set out probably the first commercial orchard in British Columbia.

He was one of the founders and charter members of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association and was appointed the first fruit pest inspector in the province. In 1908, Western Australia applied to the B.C. government for a man to frame and enforce a fruit pest act for the state and Mr. Hutcherson was loaned. He remained on the government staff in Western Australia for 10 years.

Originator Of Self-Denial Week Dies In England

John Carleton, oldest commissioner in the Salvation Army and chairman of the Army's assurance society, who died at a nursing home in Bromley at the age of 86, was the father of the self-denial week.

At a time of financial stringency, 48 years ago, General William Booth appealed to his officers for ideas. Carleton sent up a note offering to "go without pudding for a year and save 50 shillings."

The general's imagination was captured by the suggestion. "We ought not to ask our people to go without pudding for a whole year," he said, "but see no reason why we should not ask them to unite in going without something every day for a week."

This year John Carleton's idea brought in nearly $750,000.

NAUTICAL THEME AFFECTS
TINY TOTS NEEDS AND ISN'T
THIS DRESS ADORABLE

It's so simple. The fulness falls softly from the shoulders through stitched plaits that are released from about the normal waistline. The collar is so cute.

White dimity, so fresh looking and cool, printed in nautical blue ring motifs, is sketched. The collar is plain nautical blue dimity. The smart back closing is accented by white buttons. It may also be carried out in nautical blue pique voile with plain white collar.

Other nice suggestions for this easily made model are striped or checked crinkled crepe (that needs no ironing), checked azerker, plaid gingham, pastel pique, dotted or candy striped voile, pastel organdy, etc.

Style No. 371 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1½ yards of 35-inch material with ½ yard of 18-inch or wider contrasting. Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Wrap coat carefully.

LIVE AT HOME

By JACK MINER

There is no human power that can convince me that our loving God is to blame for this present crisis. The fact is for over four years we have allowed ourselves to go blood thirsty mad, right from the bar-room to the pulpit, and God did not settle all this world's affairs on November 11, 1918, for since that we have gone crazy. Yes we have let our hands be made a dear tree to you. My dissatisfied brother, try this plan and in less than five years you will

Now, we are beginning to wake up and find we have been fishing on the wrong side of the boat. Yes, we begin to realize we have missed a golden opportunity and are dissatisfied with ourselves and everybody else, but here we are a thousand miles from home and nothing to show for it.

Now to those of you who have no home of your own, please let me advise you to try the "live-at-home"

Now I don't care who you are, for it is the thoughts you allow your heart to entertain that give you desires and cause you to act, and I know you can enjoy the sun in your own garden with a hoe in your hands, and even though you have to live in a tent for a season, you will enjoy it more and sleep sounder than when you are paying rent for four brick walls. Remember, Canada has the very best helpful forestry department; get in touch with them and watch for wild flowering shrubs, such as hawthorn, that you can plant yourself to make this little spot neater and dearer to your heart. Grow your own potatoes, cabbage, and other vegetables. Oh, yes, and if far enough south, plant a dozen mulberry trees. If in the north, plant Mountain Ash.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

Golden text: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: love therefore is the fulfillment of the law." Romans 13:10. Lesson: Amos, Chapters 5 and 7. Devotional Reading: Proverbs 21:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

A Lament over Israel, 5:1-3. Amos has been called "the first doctor of Israel." Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you. O house of Israel: Thus Amos begins our message. A "lamentation" is a technical term applied to poetry of a mournful tone, a dirge such as was chanted over the dead, as in David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan (2 Samuel 1:17), or in the face of any calamity, such as Ezekiel uttered in Ezekiel 19: "The virgin of Israel is fallen: she is cast down upon the land." Although Amos wrote many decades before the destruction of Samaria, the consequences which he saw and of which he was so sure that he used the present tense, came to pass in 722 B.C. when Assyria conquered the city and carried its people off into exile.

Injustice and Oppression Denounced, 5:10-13. The gate, as we learned in an earlier lesson, is the broad, open space before a city gate where claims were adjusted. "They hate him that reproacheth in the gate," cried Amos, "and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly." Amos knew only too well how he was hated in Israel. He was accused of blasphemy and high treason, and told by the priest Amaziah to "Go, flee to the land of Judah, and eat there thy bread, and prophesy there; but prophesy not again any more at Bethel." And he had obeyed and there he wrote down the substance of the addresses he had given.

Amos next addressed the judges and accused them of trampling on the poor, demanding a portion of their scanty harvest of wheat, for in no other way could they obtain justice except by this buying it. Retribution would overtake them; they would not dwell long in their fine houses of hewn stone, nor drink the wine from their pleasant vineyards.

Your transgressions are many, your sins mighty. You take a bribe from the rich and you despise the needy. You despise the word of the Lord, and withold a man's rights who is too poor to pay a bribe. Moffatt translates: "I know your countless crimes, browbeating honest men, accepting bribes, defrauding the poor of justice."

A Way Of Escape From Penalty, 5:14. Professor Kent paraphrases these verses in these words: "To whomsoever my words appeal, I repeat: persevere in your efforts to do that which is right in the sight of God, and he, the all-powerful and just, will not fail you. Undauntedly strive to put down public evil, and to purify the law courts; perchance a faithful few may yet survive the approaching destruction to enjoy Jehovah's blessing and favor."

Justice, Not Mere Ritual, Pleasing to God, 5:21-24. The prophet now represents God as saying, "I hate, I despise your feasts, and will take no account in your solemn assemblies." But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

Little Journeys In Science

WATER

(By Gordon H. Quest, M.A.)

Water is the most familiar of all chemical compounds. It covers about three-fourths of the earth's surface, the greatest depth of the ocean being about six miles. It is an important component of the air, and even "dry" land contains considerable quantities of water. It constitutes about 62% of beef, 87% of milk, 82% of watermelons, and 95% of cucumbers. Thus, when we buy natural milk we pay for about 87% water.

Living things, both plants and animals, cannot exist without it. Enormous shipping, fishing, and other industries result from the fact that three quarters of the earth's surface consists of sea water, and in addition, there is a great volume of fresh river and lake water so necessary to human beings and other creatures not inhabiting the sea.

Steam power is derived from water, and other mechanical power is obtained from falling water, as at Niagara where electricity is generated on a very large scale. Pure water is colorless and tasteless. In thin layers it has no color that can be detected, but it has a bluish tint when observed through considerable thickness. When sufficiently cooled it solidifies to a colorless solid commonly known as ice. When heated it boils and changes rapidly into water vapor, commonly called steam.

There is a general law of nature that substances expand when heated and contract when cooled. Fortunately for man and other living creatures water does not always follow this law. When warm water is cooled it contracts according to the law of expansion and contraction, until it reaches four degrees centigrade. For some reason which scientists cannot explain, from four degrees down to zero the water expands instead of contracting. Now, if it expanded it will be lighter than it was above four degrees, and hence the cold water will rise to the surface. When the temperature drops to zero ice forms at the surface first, and then the water under the ice is formed from the surface down as the temperature remains below zero.

All would be different if water followed the law of expansion and contraction rigidly. The water would become heavier as the temperature approached zero and this heavy cold water would drop to the bottom of lake or river. Ice would form first at the bottom and as the winter progressed the lake would freeze from the bottom up, until it was converted into a solid mass of ice. All water animals would be destroyed and the warmth of summer would not be sufficient to thaw it out.

At noon, the temperature of the moon is hotter than boiling water, but it falls to several hundred degrees below zero at night.

Addition of a per centage of copper to pure gold gives it a reddish color; silver gives it a greenish tint.
